

PLAN EXPRESS WINS THREE-YEAR CONTRACT TO FULFILL FEDEX REPROGRAPHIC SERVICES

MEMPHIS, TN --- April 2005 --- Plan Express, Inc. (PEI) announces that it has been awarded a three-year contract as preferred supplier of reprographic services for Federal Express Corporation's Properties Department (www.fedex.com; NYSE: FDX). Given the services that Plan Express provides and with many building projects expected during the course of the contract, both companies are confident that new and unprecedented efficiencies and cost-effective services will contribute to the success of the deal.

"This contract is going to build a completely new dimension on two fronts," says Graham Smith, Vice President of FedEx Properties. "It will not only strengthen the already successful relationship we have had with Plan Express, but it will give contractors a significant boost in reprographic services and delivery capabilities, and improve their business productivity. Teaming with Plan Express is exciting, and we are thrilled to be a part of the momentum to further the company's market leadership and fast track to growth."

According to Plan Express' CEO, DeWayne Adamson, "This is a dynamic time for our company. We've worked hard over the last few years at solutions that provide faster, reliable and more accurate systems for delivering significant amounts of construction plans and blueprints to far-reaching destinations. Our success is due in large part to FedEx and we are thrilled to continue this relationship."

Both companies have worked in tandem since the opening of Plan Express 12 years ago. A winning component in the relationship between the two companies has been the close proximity of their operations at the Memphis International Airport. By requesting print orders until 8 P.M. (C.S.T.) and guaranteeing a priority overnight delivery, customers extend their workday and still ensure that accurate and completely up-to-date plans make it to their destinations, anywhere in the U.S., the next day.

This year Plan Express expects to deliver over 300,000 sets of construction plans to over 250 corporations, architects, developers, and contractors across the United States. On any given night, Plan Express delivers more than 1,500 plans reliably, quickly, accurately and cost-effectively in a way that is unparalleled in the industry.

Founded in 1994, Plan Express is the fastest growing provider of late night logistics and automated logistical systems for construction documents. The Plan Express solution allows corporations, developers, architects, and contractors to simplify all aspects of construction plan management and distribution. Utilizing an easy-to-use web interface, customers can place plans, specs and blueprints in an “online plan room” where the plans can be viewed and ordered for print and delivery via express delivery the next morning, or same day pickup at select FedEx Kinko’s locations, or via digital download. The Plan Express platform enables centralized organization of project plans, revision tracking and control, digital archiving, and document storage. In addition to Memphis, TN, it has locations in Wilmington, OH, Tempe, AZ, New York City, Nashville, Chicago, Dallas and San Francisco.
