Plan Express Secures $5 Million Equity Investment To Support And Accelerate Strategic Growth

MEMPHIS, TN --- November 2004 --- Plan Express, Inc. ("Plan Express") the leading provider of construction document management, printing, reproduction, and distribution, today announced it has received a $5 million equity investment led by SSM Ventures and Frontier Capital.

Founded in 1994, Plan Express was previously angel funded and has been profitable for the past two years. The investment provides strategic growth capital that will enable the Company to expand operations, sales, and service delivery. In conjunction with the financing, Jim Witherington of SSM Ventures and Michael Ramich of Frontier Capital have been appointed to the Plan Express board.

"In considering this investment, we were particularly impressed with the unique value proposition the company brings to its customers," said Jim Witherington, Managing Partner of SSM Ventures. "Plan Express' ability to deliver construction plans reliably, quickly, accurately, and cost effectively is unparalleled in the industry."

Document Management, Printing, Logistics

"We are extremely excited about partnering with the Plan Express team to further the company's market leadership and accelerate its future growth," said Michael Ramich, Principal of Frontier Capital.

This year Plan Express will deliver over 300,000 sets of construction plans to over two hundred and fifty corporations, architects, developers, and contractors across the United States.

"This investment will allow us to add to our geographic footprint of strategically located distribution centers, as well as to deploy a national sales and support team to meet the growing demand in the marketplace for our services," said DeWayne Adamson, CEO of Plan Express.

About Plan Express, Inc.

Plan Express offers a complete solution for construction document management, printing, logistics, and delivery. The Plan Express solution allows corporations, developers, architects, and contractors to simplify all aspects of construction plan management and distribution. Utilizing an easy-to-use web interface, customers can place blueprints in the "online plan room" where the plans can be viewed and ordered for print and delivery via major carrier the next morning, same day pickup at select FedExKinkos locations, or digital download. In addition to fast, reliable, cost effective delivery of plans, the Plan Express platform enables centralized organization of project plans, revision tracking and control, digital archiving, and document storage.
